Re: NATHAN GREGORY SILVERMASTER, was, et al;
ESPIONAGE-R

Dear Sir:

On January 2, 1946 Confidential Informant GREGORY was interviewed by Special Agents Thomas G. Spencer and Joseph M. Kelly and at this time she made available to these agents a copy of "Distributors Guide", dated January 5, which was mailed to her by EARL BROWDER. It will be recalled that at a recent interview with BROWDER he indicated to GREGORY that this publication which he was getting out, with the assistance of four unnamed individuals, would make its appearance some time in January 1946 and he promised to mail her a copy of each edition of this pamphlet.

The original of this document is being retained in the file of this case. However there are enclosed herewith two photostatic copies of the contents of this publication. Efforts are being made to determine the identity of H. GOLDBERG, who appears as the President of this organization, as well as any other information which can be obtained concerning the individuals who are assisting in the publication of this pamphlet.

Very truly yours,

ABNER GREEN;
FERRUCCIO MARINI

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE _____ BY _____

As of possible interest to you, information has been received from a highly confidential source that one Abner, probably Abner Green of the American Committee for the Protection of Foreign Born, contacted Ferruccio Marini on January 15, 1946. Abner advised Marini that the two of them had an appointment with the Attorney General on January 17, 1946, at 3:00 p.m. This same source had previously advised that Marini and other aliens are involved in deportation proceedings and that Peter Cacchione, New York City Councilman from King's County, elected on the Communist Party ticket, would try to appear on Marini's behalf.

Abner Green

Abner Green is the Executive Secretary of the American Committee for the Protection of Foreign Born. This organization is very closely associated with the policies of the Communist Party - U.S.A. and intercedes largely for aliens in whom the Communist Party - U.S.A. is interested when they become involved in legal proceedings or are allegedly discriminated against in contravention of the Communist Party line. The "Daily Worker," Communist Party publication, dated September 7, 1938, referred to Green as a member of the Communist Party of the Eighteenth Assembly District, Brooklyn, New York, who was participating in a round table discussion over Radio Station WCW. He at that time was Vice Chairman of the American Committee for the Protection of Foreign Born.

Green's present wife, the former Susan Hole, is reported by a confidential source to have been present at a meeting of the Midtown Club of the Communist Party for the Twelfth Assembly District, Manhattan, New York City. She too has been active in furthering the aims of the Communist Party. At one time she was employed by Russian War Relief at Cleveland, Ohio. Green himself has been active in the American Committee for the Protection of Foreign Born and associated in the Communist movement for a number of years.

Ferruccio Marini

Ferruccio Marini was born on May 22, 1894, at Visinada, Italy. From 1920 to 1924, he worked with newspapers in Italy controlled by the Socialist Party and was a member of that organization from 1919 to 1924. In 1924, he joined the Communist Party of Italy, which at that time was affiliated with the Comintern, and remained with the publication which became the official organ of the Communist Party of Italy. In 1925, Marini proceeded to Vienna, Austria, where he continued his newspaper career in the publishing of a clandestine Communist newspaper which was smuggled from Vienna into Italy due to the then existing Fascist regime in the latter country. About 1926, he proceeded to Russia and after working a few months began "studying economics" at the Lenin Institute, Moscow, U.S.S.R., where he remained for a year and a half. In 1928, Marini was in Paris, France, writing articles for the United Anti-Fascist Committee and during the same year, left Paris for the United States where he was to edit an Italian newspaper. In 1929, he joined the Workers Party of America, which subsequently became the Communist Party - U.S.A. and continued his membership in this organization until May or June of 1939, when he contends he dropped his membership for private reasons.

In attempting to legalize his presence in this country with the Immigration and Naturalization Service, Marini furnished much of the above information, including the fact that while in the Communist Party, he attended the inner Party meetings at Communist Party headquarters in New York City, specializing in the problems of the foreign born.

On June 14, 1943, Marini pled guilty to an indictment charging him with failure to register as an alien in 1940. In spite of a plea for Marini by Congressman Vito Marcantonio, Marini was sentenced to imprisonment for a period of six months. On June 18, 1943, Marini surrendered himself and began serving his sentence and on November 20, 1943, he was released from the Federal House of Detention under $500 bond.

It is understood that deportation proceedings are outstanding against Marini and on May 4, 1944, he filed an application for suspension of deportation. Final disposition in this case is not known and it may be this matter which Green and Marini desire to discuss with you at the above-mentioned appointment.

Although Marini contends that he dropped his membership in the Communist Party in 1939, it is interesting to note that in March, 1944, he became Secretary of the New Progressive Club founded to further the circulation of the Communist Italian language newspaper "L'Unita del Popolo's," New York City. Marini has written prolifically in this publication on American and Italian politics, following the "Daily Worker" pattern and is a frequent speaker at Italian, Communist and International Workers Order, a Communist front organization, meetings. Marini in the past has been in contact with known Soviet agents.

Peter V. Cacchione

Peter V. Cacchione, running on the Communist Party ticket, was reelected as New York City Councilman from King's County in November, 1943. He is a member of the National Committee and the National Election and Political Section Committee of the Communist Party - U.S.A. He is Vice President and State Committeeman of the New York State Communist Party and President of the Brooklyn Communist Party. In the past, he has written a column for the "Daily Worker," Communist Party publication, entitled "It Happened at City Hall." He makes numerous addresses to clubs and organizations and is active in recruiting Communist Party members and selling subscriptions to the "Daily Worker." He resides with his wife, Dorothy, in Brooklyn, New York. Dorothy Cacchione is a member of the Peter V. Cacchione Branch of the Communist Party, Sixteenth Assembly District, King's County, New York. She assisted her husband in his various political campaigns and is otherwise active in furthering the interests of the Communist Party.

I thought it desirable to bring the above information to your attention in order that you might have a brief background of both Green and Marini if in fact their reported appointment is kept with you on January 17, 1946.

At the above time ASAC Hennrich, Washington Field Office, called to advise Silvermaster has obtained a job at $11,000 a year as economic adviser to the War Assets Board.

Mr. Hennrich went on to state that he will have an average of 13 men per day working between now and January 8 on this case. Seven will be used on plants, leaving six available for handling everything else on the case. Mr. Hennrich stated in view of this the coverage will be rather light.

I advised Mr. Hennrich this would be all right and that we would have to depend on technicals and the fact that subjects will not be going to their offices and will not be as active as they would be on normal working days.

Mr. Hennrich advised if they have to have agents working Christmas day he will pay them time and a half and not count it as a day off.

Re: ROBERT TALBOTT MILLER III with alias
Bob Miller 3042 Pwt/Ptc

DECLASSIFIED BY SP7 Mup/te
ON 4-8-86

Dear Sir:

In the signed statement furnished by Miss ELIZABETH BENTLEY, dated November 30, 1945, she referred to ROBERT MILLER, who is undoubtedly identical with ROBERT TALBOTT MILLER III, as follows:

"In about April or May, 1941, GOLOS introduced me to ROBERT MILLER, who operated the Latin-American news service 'Hemisphere', and his wife. Subsequent to this introduction, GOLOS instructed me to make an arrangement whereby I was to meet MILLER every two weeks for dinner at about the time the publication 'Hemisphere' came out. At these dinner engagements, MILLER would furnish copies of 'Hemisphere' which I would give to GOLOS.....He was successful in obtaining employment with the Office of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs and moved to Washington, D. C. and brought some of the files of 'Hemisphere' to Washington.

"About the time MILLER moved to Washington, I was seeing MARY
PRICE in that city, and when I went to Washington I was instructed by GOLOS to also see BOB MILLER for any information he might be able to hand out. I would see MILLER on my trips to Washington and he furnished me with pamphlets and other information that he had obtained through his official connection with the CIAA. I cannot recall definitely what these documents contained, but it is my recollection that they were at least restricted articles such as might be passed by the Government agencies and which were not for public consumption. I am unable to recall whether any of these documents were stamped "restricted" or "confidential", but I am rather doubtful whether they had any such stamp. MILLER told me that in his capacity at the CIAA, he had occasion to see reports written by ONI, G-2, OSS, and the FBI concerning Latin-American matters.

"During my initial contacts with MILLER in Washington, he would hand me a typewritten summary of some of the information appearing in the ONI, G-2, OSS, and FBI files. This material always concerned Communist or

"Russian activities in Latin-America. However, as time went on, MILLER became somewhat alarmed over handing me these typewritten notes and merely verbally informed me of the material that he had observed in the above-mentioned Government reports. MILLER's association with the CIAA ceased sometime about November, 1943, and he informed me at that time that he was attempting to locate himself in the State Department. I last saw MILLER in about December, 1944, at which time he was employed in the State Department. He was employed at that time as an editorial writer for a State Department news publication that was to be sent to all State Department officials in the various countries to apprise them of the current happenings throughout the world. This information was to be gathered from the cables being sent into the Seat of Government by the various State Department employees throughout the world. This matter, I understand, was to be of a strictly confidential nature and classified as top secret and not for public consumption. I wish to state, however, that from the time MILLER obtained his position with the State Department, he has not given me any information whatsoever."

Investigation conducted by the Washington Field Office has established that MILLER is employed as Assistant Chief, Division of Research and Publication, U. S. Department of State, and that he came to the State Department on June 7, 1944 from the office of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs. MILLER presently resides at 3223 North Hampton Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

A mail cover was placed on the residence of ROBERT MILLER on November 27, 1945 and to date, it has been found unproductive. Xu

A physical surveillance was instituted on ROBERT MILLER by the Washington Field Office on November 17, 1945 and has been conducted continuously to date. This physical surveillance has revealed that MILLER has contacted Mr. and Mrs. HERMANN R. FABICHT, JOHN PAUL MILAN, ARSALKA, MINTER WOOD, and probably the residence of ALGER HISS. The aforementioned individuals, with the exception of HISS, are subjects of Internal Security - R investigations in the Washington Field Office. These individuals' names have appeared in the technical log covering the activities of MILLER in the past, with the exception of ALGER HISS. Xu

It is also pointed out that MILLER resides in the same section of Washington as does the SILVERMASTER family, and it is believed that the discontinuance of the surveillance on MILLER would assist in the maintaining of a more discreet physical surveillance on the SILVERMASTER residence.

Re: DONALD NIVEN WHEELER

PERSONAL AND CONFIDENTIAL

DECLASSIFIED BY SP7 Mac/te
ON 4-8-86
#254,269

Dear Sir:

The informant in this case has named DONALD WHEELER as a member of the PERLO group. With respect to him, she has stated that mention was of DONALD WHEELER and of the fact that because of his position on the Educational Board of the Research and Analysis Section of the Office of Strategic Services, he would be able to make contributions of value. She stated that she recalled that Major DUNCAN LEE had a friend named DONALD WHEELER in the Office of Strategic Services and that WHEELER had attended either Oxford or Cambridge University, and that WHEELER was really a progressive person. She stated that WHEELER turned over to PERLO some written material, including Office of Strategic Services documents. She advised that this took place in MARY PRICE'S apartment and she recalls WHEELER having been there at one of various meetings at MARY PRICE'S apartment, Washington, D. C.

Investigation by the Washington Field Division has revealed that DONALD WHEELER is presently employed in the Office of Strategic Services as Chief of the Western European Section at 401 - 23rd Street, N. W. He presently resides at 6400 MacArthur Boulevard, N. W., Washington, D. C.

A physical surveillance was instituted on WHEELER by the Washington Field Office on November 17, 1945. To date this surveillance has revealed that the only contacts of significance were contacts between subject and VICTOR PERLO on November 20 and 25, 1945, and with Lt. Col. DUNCAN C. LEE on December 2, 1945. These contacts would tend to prove the allegations originally set out by the informant.

A technical surveillance has been maintained on the residence of WHEELER since November 27, 1945. This technical surveillance has not produced any additional contacts on the part of WHEELER, which could be regarded as significant to this case. This technical surveillance will be maintained on the WHEELER residence.

Re: ALLAN R. ROSENBERG

Dear Sir:

The informant in this case has mentioned ALLAN R. ROSENBERG as a member of the PERLO group in Washington, D. C. The informant stated that she had met ROSENBERG about once at MARY PRICE'S apartment in Washington, D. C., at which time he turned over information to her. She said that ROSENBERG furnished information that he obtained as a result of observing recommendations, plans, and proposals made by various governmental officials concerning the handling of Germany. She advised that he was employed in the Foreign Economic Administration at that time and this material came to him in the course of his duties with that agency. She said that quantities of written material bearing on the matters mentioned above were furnished by ROSENBERG. She cited for examples specific suggestions and proposals made by various American officials with respect to problems expected in postwar Germany.

Investigation by the Washington Field Division has disclosed that ROSENBERG was employed by the Foreign Economic Administration as Chief of the Economic Institution Staff until November 16, 1945, at a salary of $8000.00. He is presently employed with his brother-in-law, WILLIAM C. KOPLOVITZ, in private law practice, with offices in the Bowen Building, 815 - 15th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. He resides at 6955 Brooks Lane, Brookmont, Maryland. A physical surveillance was instituted on ROSENBERG by the Washington Field Office on November 23, 1945, and to date the only contacts which he has had were with HAROLD GLASSER, another subject in this case, and also a member of the PERLO group, according to the informant, and one WARREN LEONARD SHARFMAN, who resides at 5320 Carolina Place, N. W. SHARFMAN in 1942 was employed as an attorney by the Office of Price Administration, and was formerly employed by the Treasury Department. The indices of the Washington Field Office reflect that SHARFMAN and his wife both are listed as members of various Communist front organizations.

A mail cover was placed on ROSENBERG'S address on November 28, 1945, and to date it has proved unproductive.

A technical surveillance has been in effect covering ROSENBERG'S residence since December 4, 1945, and to date this surveillance has revealed no additional contacts other than those produced as a result of the physical surveillance. Teletype dated December 18, 1945 from Pittsburgh advised the Washington Field Division that the indices of the Pittsburgh Office were checked with negative results on ELIZABETH K. LAMBIE.

By teletype dated December 17, 1945 the Washington Office requested the Pittsburgh Field Division to ascertain the identity and background of subscriber of the following telephone number called by one of the subjects in Washington, D.C.: Harpers Ferry, West Virginia No. 2581 to BARBARA SMITH on January 8, 1945.

AT HARPERS FERRY, WEST VIRGINIA

L. B. NICHOLS, Mayor, stated that telephone number 2581, Harpers Ferry, is the telephone in the girls' dormitory at Storer College, Harpers Ferry. The information was substantiated by checking the Harpers Ferry telephone directory.

Mr. NICHOLS stated that Storer College is a colored school for boys and girls with both white and colored teachers. He stated that the college is sponsored by the North Baptist Association of Boston, Massachusetts and by the State of West Virginia and that it was founded in 1867. Mayor NICHOLS stated that its president, RICHARD I. McKINNEY, colored, and the college enjoy a good reputation for loyalty and patriotism. He stated that he did not know BARBARA SMITH.

RICHARD I. McKINNEY, President of Storer College, made the records of BARBARA ROBERTA SMITH available which revealed that her home was at Craigsville, Virginia, and that she was 19 years old. The records further reflected that Miss SMITH entered Storer College in September 1943 from the high school in Staunton, Virginia. Mr. McKINNEY stated that the grades of Miss SMITH were satisfactory and that she was considered as being loyal and patriotic.

By teletype dated December 19, 1945, the Pittsburgh Office advised the Washington Field Division of the above information received at Harpers Ferry, West Virginia.

AT CHARLESTOWN, WEST VIRGINIA

Sheriff GARLAND MOORE, Jefferson County, and Sergeant W. L. WOLFORD, West Virginia State Police, stated that Storer College enjoyed a good reputation in the county for loyalty and patriotism. They stated that they did not know BARBARA ROBERTA SMITH.

Re: NATHAN GREGORY SILVERMASTER, was, et al;
ESPIONAGE-R

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent John P. Ryan, entitled "ELIZABETH FERRILL BENTLEY, et al; ESPIONAGE R", dated at Philadelphia November 24, 1945. It is noted that this report reflects information to the effect that CEDRIC H. BELFRAGE and his wife filed first papers in the U. S. District Court at Los Angeles on November 15, 1937.

There is no indication in the Philadelphia report to the effect that BELFRAGE and his wife have taken any further steps toward becoming U. S. citizens. Also, it is possible that due to absences from the United States and the period of more than seven years that has elapsed since 1937 their original papers have lapsed. However, it is felt that it might well be undesirable for BELFRAGE to attain the status of a citizen pending the outcome of the investigation of the captioned case.

This matter is being brought to the attention of the Bureau for whatever action is deemed advisable.

Very truly yours,

E. E. CONROY

Dear Sir:

In connection with the investigation of ABE BROTHMAN, one of the subjects in instant case, a technical surveillance of the telephones listed to his office under the name of ABE BROTHMAN & ASSOCIATES, 114 E. 32nd Street, New York City, has been maintained since December 4, 1945, as Confidential Informant [redacted]. The listings for these telephones are: Murray Hill 3-9670 and Murray Hill 3-9671.

Through this medium many of BROTHMAN's business and social contacts have been identified and investigation of those believed of possible significance is continuing. This coverage is of great assistance in maintaining the spot check on BROTHMAN's activities and it is believed that fact, together with information supplied relative to the nature of his business, justifies the continuation of this technical surveillance.

RE: NATHAN GREGORY SILVERMASTER, was, Et Al
ESPIONAGE - R

Attention: Assistant Director D. M. LADD

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to San Francisco teletype in instant matter dated December 27, 1945, wherein on page one of this teletype the San Francisco Office advised that the San Francisco files reflected a letter to the Bureau from the Seattle Office dated May 14, 1942, wherein it was mentioned that CHARLES WALAMUTH, of 1112 Edgecliff Place, Ithaca, New York, had furnished information to a Civil Service investigator to the effect that NATHAN GREGORY SILVERMASTER had married a girl named HELEN WITTE, the daughter of a Baron WITTE. The above-mentioned letter from the Seattle Office to the Bureau indicated that the girl named HELEN WITTE was originally married to a man known as VOLKOV, who had originally come to the United States as an Adviser to a Manchurian Prince, VOLKOV being an alleged OGPU Agent. It is apparent that the above VOLKOV is identical with BORIS NICHOLAS VOLKOV and that the wife of NATHAN GREGORY SILVERMASTER had possibly used the name HELEN WITTE before her marriage to VOLKOV. Investigation to date in this case has failed to develop information regarding the true name of Mrs. SILVERMASTER other than the maiden name of HELEN PETROVNA.

HANDLED BY
STOKES

The Bureau's attention is directed to the fact that was furnished the Bureau by this office under letter of December 27, 1945, with the request that the FBI Laboratory examine same against the Bureau's security files and especially against known Russian typewriter specimens. The Detroit Field Division has been requested to identify the above-mentioned V. WITTE.

The Bureau is requested to furnish the Washington Field Office the details of the above-mentioned letter from the Seattle Office to the Bureau dated May 14, 1942, as a further aid to investigation in this matter.

A copy of this communication is being designated for the New York Office, which is origin, with the suggestion that consideration be given to a further interview with CHARLES MALAMUTH, 1112 Edgecliff Place, Ithaca, New York.

Re: HAROLD GLASSER

Dear Sir:

In connection with the above subject, ELIZABETH TERRILL BENTLEY stated that in 1944 she became aware, during her association with the PERLO Group, that HAROLD GLASSER may have been connected with this Group. She states that GLASSER for a time in 1944 was outside the United States in some capacity with the United States Treasury Department; that he returned to the United States about the early Fall of 1944 and was thereafter in the Treasury Department in Washington; that he may have been an assistant to HARRY WHITE and at least was rather closely associated with WHITE and that GLASSER was able to supply general information concerning the activities of the Treasury Department, particularly where they concerned proposed loans to foreign countries. He also supplied information originating in FEA that was sent to the Treasury Department. She stated that HAROLD GLASSER had come to Washington sometime in the early 1930's and had associated himself with the United States Treasury Department, and that he is a Communist Party member.

Investigation in this case has developed that HAROLD GLASSER is employed in the United States Treasury Department and that he lives at 5410 Cathedral Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C.

A cover has been placed on the mail going to HAROLD GLASSER, but no results which are of interest to this case have been observed from this mail cover.

Physical surveillance on HAROLD GLASSER was instituted on November 19, 1945, and is still continuing to date. This physical surveillance developed that on November 21, 1945, ALLAN R. ROSENBERG, another subject of this case, called for GLASSER at 8:45 A.M. and drove GLASSER to work in his car.

Re: Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, was, Et Al
December 11, 1945

On November 25, 1945, CHARLES KRAMER, who is another subject of this case, visited the GLASSER home from 8:30 P.M. until 9:00 P.M. On November 28, 1945, subject ROSENBERG called at the GLASSER home at 8:20 A.M. and drove GLASSER to work in his car. They also picked up WARREN L. SHARFMAN, 5320 Carolina Place. SHARFMAN and his wife, AMALIE SHARFMAN, are known to have been formerly affiliated with Communist dominated organizations, according to Washington Field Office files. cu

At 5:13 P.M., on December 1, 1945, a Studebaker Sedan, bearing D.C. plates 132-227, listed to WARREN L. SHARFMAN, came to the GLASSER home and persons from this car stayed in the GLASSER home until 5:30 P.M., at which time it drove to the residence of ALLAN R. ROSENBERG, another subject in this case. Two men were in the car when it drove to the ROSENBERG home after leaving the GLASSER home, but it was impossible to identify them because it was dark. The car then drove from the ROSENBERG home to the GLASSER home, and a person believed to be WARREN L. SHARFMAN went to the GLASSER'S front door where he appeared to give an object to someone who came to the door. He left almost immediately and drove to the SHARFMAN residence, where he parked the car and entered the SHARFMAN home. Due to the darkness, it was not possible to determine whether this individual was SHARFMAN, although he answered SHARFMAN'S description, was driving the SHARFMAN car which he parked outside the SHARFMAN home.

At 7:20 P.M., December 5, 1945, subject ALLAN R. ROSENBERG came to subject GLASSER'S home and remained until 7:30 P.M.

A resume of the above physical surveillance tends to corroborate the statement originally given by ELIZABETH TERRILL BENTLEY by showing that HAROLD GLASSER has contacted CHARLES KRAMER and ALLAN R. ROSENBERG, both subjects of this case. cu

Technical surveillance was instituted on December 3, 1945, and is continuing to date. The technical surveillance discloses ANNA ROSENBERG, on December 4, 1945, called the GLASSER home and asked for ALLAN ROSENBERG. A person at the GLASSER home explained that ROSENBERG had come by the GLASSER cu home to pick up a coffee pot and deliver "those things". CU

On December 5, 1945, Mrs. ROSENBERG called a woman at the GLASSER home, asking for Mr. and Mrs. GLASSER, but both were out. On December 8, 1945, Mrs. FAY GLASSER told a man named "SAM" that ALLAN ROSENBERG had gone into private law practice. CU

On December 9, 1945, ALLAN ROSENBERG called the GLASSER home and offered to give Mr. GLASSER a ride to the Airport, which offer was declined. CU

During the time of this physical surveillance, there have been no actions observed on the part of subject GLASSER which would establish that he is involved in Soviet espionage or is in contact with any Soviet espionage agent. Bureau consideration is, therefore, requested toward authorizing discontinuance of physical surveillance on GLASSER.

Very truly yours,

Reference is made to my memorandum of December 6, 1945, regarding the period of investigation in this case. You will recall that it was stated that when contact had been verified between various subjects as related by Bentley, that physical surveillances on such individuals would be discontinued, and their activities followed thereafter by means of technical coverage, mail coverage, et cetera.

In this category are subjects Harold Glasser, Allan R. Rosenberg, Donald Niven Wheeler and Robert Talbot Miller, III.

Harold Glasser was named by the informant as a member of the Perlo group. Physical surveillance has definitely shown that Glasser is a contact of Charles Kramer, another member of the Perlo group, and Allan Rosenberg, another subject in this case. In addition to these two individuals physical surveillance has shown that Glasser is a contact of Warren Sharfman, who has in the past been active in Communist front groups.

A technical surveillance is in effect on Glasser.

Allan Rosenberg was identified by the informant as a member of the Perlo group. The physical surveillance has shown Rosenberg to be in contact with Harold Glasser. However, Rosenberg is no longer employed by the United States Government, and is now engaged in the private practice of law in Washington, D. C. A technical surveillance is in effect on Rosenberg.

Donald Niven Wheeler was stated by the informant to be a contact of Duncan Lee and Victor Perlo. The physical surveillance on Wheeler since November 17, 1945, shows that Wheeler has been in contact with both Lee and Perlo. A technical surveillance is in effect on Wheeler.

Robert Talbot Miller, III, was according to the informant a direct contact of Golos. The physical surveillance has shown that Miller, although a contact of Hermann Habicht, John Marsalka and Winter Wood, all of whom are subjects of Internal Security - R investigation, has not had physical contact with any of the subjects in this case. He has, however, been in telephone contact with Joseph Greg, one of the subjects herein. A technical surveillance is in effect on Robert Talbot Miller, III.

Since the physical surveillances of these individuals have not revealed contacts which could not have been revealed by the technical surveillance, and since any further physical contacts would merely be additional corroboration, it is requested that you authorize discontinuance of physical surveillances on these people.

ASAC C. E. Hennrich of the Washington Field Office called me at the above time and advised that on January 5, 1946, one Arthur Compton contacted Joan Redmont, the wife of Bernard Redmont. He said he wanted to get in touch with her brother because of an ABC meeting. She told him her brother was out of town and he was married yesterday and would be back the end of the week. Compton said the meeting was about an international policy and that his name was on a list which he (Compton) had inherited from Hoffman. Joan then gave Compton a telephone number here in Washington, D. C., Executive-3752, at 916 19th Street. (u)

From a search of the Washington Field Office files, Mr. Hennrich stated it was disclosed this man Compton is apparently Dr. Arthur Holly Compton, who is one of the scientists on the atom bomb control. He is mentioned in the SODAC case in a report of John C. Reilly (phonetic) dated at Chicago, on June 19, 1945. This ABC is undoubtedly the atom bomb control, Mr. Hennrich said. Compton mentioned that they have some "hot stuff" to discuss.

The brother of Joan is apparently one Don Rothenberg and our files show nothing on him.

Mr. Hennrich said this is very interesting and perhaps the Bureau would want to check its files in connection with Rothenberg. I advised him we would want to do so and that perhaps we would want to pass this information along to Major Lansdale at Manhattan District.

At the present time, Mr. Hennrich said he believed this called for no further action on their part. I told him I did not see anything further for them to do after they get the call he makes. That, of course, it would be helpful to get the call he makes to the number given to him by Joan. Mr. Hennrich stated that, of course, they wouldn't get this call because if he was calling her from outside after receiving the number he would call it direct and as far as they are concerned they probably won't hear anything more about it. This fellow apparently is associated with that project and apparently Compton is associated with it. Mr. Hennrich stated 234

ASAC C. E. Hennrich of Washington Field Office called me at the above time with reference to this case. He had called yesterday in connection with a man named Arthur Compton who had called Joan Redmont. He stated he thought he had some clarification on that and it may not be as bad as it sounded yesterday. In conversations today it appeared that Redmont and Remington are getting together for the first time in a long while because they didn't know how to reach each other by phone and had to call a third party to find out how to reach Remington. A fellow named John Over (phonetic), one Bob Cook, an ex-newspaperman, and the other two men are apparently all veterans. They had a conversation today about the AVC which apparently is this new American's Veterans Committee. Instead of being mentioned by Mr. Hennrich yesterday, it was probably AVC. They said at that time they were going to discuss the atomic bomb. Undoubtedly it would be of interest to the military anyway, Mr. Hennrich remarked, although it puts a little different complexion on the matter and probably reduces somewhat the possibility of a fellow calling was the Arthur Compton who was in the Soviet case.

Dear Sir:

On December 13, 1945 technical surveillance was established on the residence of ALBERT EUGENE KAHN, Whitehall Road, Yorktown Heights, New York. The telephone number at KAHN's residence is Yorktown Heights 2082. This technical surveillance terminates at SUTEC and is designated as Confidential Informant [redacted] (u) b7D

During the last 30 days this informant has been of paramount value in covering the activities of subject KAHN. KAHN occupies a residence in a sparsely settled area, well out of New York City. A survey of the locality has shown that it would be impossible to establish a physical surveillance in this area or even to conduct a physical surveillance on a spot check basis. Consequently Confidential Informant [redacted] is the only practical source of information concerning KAHN's activities which is available. (u) b7D

In view of the above information it is recommended that the services of this informant be continued at the present time.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:

Walter Gregory Silver

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent WILLIAM J. McCARTHY, JR., New York City, dated December 27, 1945, on the instant case.

It will be noted that on page 12 the contents of subject's notebook is set out and the name BURDET, 2 Grace Court, Brooklyn, is listed. On page 42 of the above-mentioned report information concerning OWEN BURDETT, who formerly occupied an apartment at 2 Grace Court, is set out.

Since the subject's notebook only contained the name "BURDETT", it is not known whether this refers to OWEN BURDETT, his wife ELIZABETH W. BURDETT, or his son. Concerning this the following is of interest:

When Confidential Informant GREGORY, whose identity is known to the Bureau, was interviewed, the following information was developed: In 1939 ELIZABETH P. BENTLEY received a cablegram from WINSTON BURDETT. JACOB GOLOS informed her that he had been in communication with BURDETT but had told BURDETT to cable ELIZABETH P. BENTLEY whenever he changed his address. The informant stated that ELIZABETH P. BENTLEY received several cables from BURDETT and turned them over to GOLOS. At the time GOLOS and BENTLEY were operating as Russian agents for the United States.

Concerning WINSTON HANSFIELD BURDETT, the following information was developed: The 1943 edition of "Current Biography", published by E. W. WILSON, New York City, contains the following information relative to WINSTON HANSFIELD BURDETT:

BURDETT was born on December 12, 1915 at Buffalo, New York. He attended Trinity School in New York City and later went to Harvard University, where he specialized in Russian language. He was graduated a Bachelor of Arts at Harvard by completing his studies in three years, graduating magna cum laude at the age of 19. He later, during the years 1931-1934 took post-graduate work in Italian at Columbia University, New York City. Since his graduation from school, BURDETT's entire career has been in the newspaper field. His first position was on the "Brooklyn Daily Eagle" where he worked for six years as a reporter, columnist and associate editor of "Trend", the paper's Sunday supplement. In his "Eagle" column, "The Sound Track", BURDETT aired his comments and reflections on the motion picture industry. He was chiefly interested in analyzing and evaluating the Hollywood attitude toward contemporary issues and problems, particularly with regard to their awareness of social problems.

During his employment on the "Brooklyn Daily Eagle" BURDETT served his colleagues in a number of ways. He was Chairman of the Grievance Committee of the local unit of the Newspaper Guild, Delegate to the Guild's Representative Assembly, Chairman of the Guild's Election Committee and a member of the Strike Committee. According to his associates, he devoted considerable effort and ability to his activities of the Newspaper Guild.

Shortly after the outbreak of World War II, BURDETT was assigned to Sweden by the "Brooklyn Daily Eagle" to cover the war at Scandinavia as a roving reporter. His work for the "Brooklyn Eagle" subsequently obtained for him contracts with Trans-Radio Press and the Columbia Broadcasting System. In February, 1940, he sailed for the Finnish capital, whence he was to proceed to Sweden; originally, he was supposed to remain abroad for six months, depending upon developments. He planned to mail his eye-witness accounts, to the "Eagle", thereby providing the newspaper with an exclusive feature. Subsequently, Trans-Radio Press made him head of its Scandinavian Staff, after which the Columbia Broadcasting System obtained him as one of its Foreign Correspondents and Paris Representative.

Following his Scandinavian assignment BURDETT went to Bucharest via Moscow. In Bucharest he met LEO SCHIANT, an Italian journalist from Milan, Italy, and married her. (While on a photographic assignment for PM in Northern Iran in April, 1942, Mrs. BURDETT was killed by a band of Kurds).

As foreign Correspondent for the Columbia Broadcasting System, BURDETT used to broadcast to the United States every Sunday evening in a CBS roundup of Foreign Capitals. In October, 1940, however, he was given five days in which to leave Romania. He was ordered out of the country of the Axis because he had discovered and reported Nazi infiltration into Romania. His reports of unrest in Italy, such as the 1941 riots in Milan and other Northern Italian cities, were said to have led to his expulsion from Romania.

"BUNKER" covered the local situation in Ankara, Turkey and Cairo, Egypt for CBS before going to North Africa prior to the American invasion. In North Africa he reported for a great deal on the details of the Giroud-Saulle controversy. While BUNKER's sympathies were obviously on the side of the Free French he eagerly, according to his broadcast, hoped for a rapprochement between the two Generals. He optimistically held General Giroud's speech in March, 1943, as "the fine speech in favor of democracy" and looked forward to the eventual union of French forces. In the summer of 1943, BUNKER covered the Allied invasion of Sicily and in the autumn of that year he was again broadcasting from Algiers. BUNKER's biographer concluded that little seems to be known of BUNKER as a person, probably because he has thought it both unnecessary and ostentatious to have himself publicized. His associates on the "Brooklyn Daily Eagle" recall him as a "quiet sort of fellow, one whom you would never expect to say much." It is to be noted that a picture of BUNKER is obtainable, in the event the same is necessary, in the publication mentioned above.

"FRANK WHITE, Vice-President, Columbia Broadcasting System, 485 Madison Avenue, New York City, advised that WINSTON BUNKER was originally employed by the Columbia Broadcasting System in 1941, while he was in Italy. Since that time he has been broadcasting news events and comments from European capitals, chiefly centered around the Mediterranean area. At the present time, according to Mr. WHITE, BUNKER broadcasts several times a week in a world news roundup program from Cairo, Egypt. Prior to this, considerable of BUNKER's time had been spent at Ankara. Since the time of his original employment BUNKER has not returned to the United States although it is expected that he will do so for routine purposes within the not too immediate future. Mr. WHITE further advised that they have never received any complaints concerning the substance of news comments and opinions as broadcast by BUNKER. He has confined himself chiefly to the obtaining of new features. He has also appeared quite sincere in his broadcast, although caustic at times when the occasion demanded it. Mr. WHITE advised that several correspondents of CBS, JOHN HAY and EDWARD E. BROWN would voluntarily be in a position to present a brief personal picture concerning BUNKER's activities and political thoughts. BROWN, however, at the present time is in Europe and not available. It was not deemed advisable to make further inquiries concerning BUNKER at CBS at the present time.

According to a news item appearing in the "New York Times" of April 27, 1942, Mrs. LIA SCHIARI BURNETT, wife of WINSTON BURNETT and a correspondent for the New York newspaper, PM, was shot and killed by a band of Kurds in Northern Iraq on April 25, 1942. According to this news item, Mrs. BURNETT, of Italian birth, was about thirty-two years of age. She was BURNETT in Bucharest, Rumania, where she was writing for an Italian newspaper. They were married in Sofia, Bulgaria in July of 1940. Because of alleged anti-fascist sympathies, Mrs. BURNETT was expelled from Bucharest in 1940, at which time the Italian government canceled her passport and visa.

In a news item of October 24, 1940 in the "New York Times" dated from Bucharest, Rumania, it was noted that BURNETT, a reporter for CBS, was ordered to leave Rumania in five days. His wife was included in the expulsion order.

A further news item appearing in the "New York Times" of January 31, 1942, entitled Berno, Switzerland reported that BURNETT was barred from the use of the international telephone by decree of the Yugoslav Ministry because of his anti-Italian representations in reporting disorders in Northern Italy.

MARTHA WILIE, Registrar's Office, Columbia University, advised Special Agent Joseph F. Garvey that BURNETT took post-graduate study in Italian from September 1931 to June 1934 at Columbia. At this time his address was 2409 Talbot Street, Kew Gardens, New York City. His father was named OWEN L. BURNETT of the same address. MARTHA WILIE pointed out that Professor BURNETT, 322 Philosophy Building, Columbia University, could undoubtedly furnish information concerning BURNETT during his matriculation at Columbia. It was not deemed advisable however to interview the last named person at this point of the investigation.

From the above and from the information on OWEN BURNETT set out on page 2 of the Preliminary Report, it appears that WINSTON BURNETT is the son of OWEN BURNETT and he may be a subject of future investigation.

In view of the fact that MARTHA WILIE may also be connected with WINSTON F. BURNETT and others in a Russian agent, any investigation relative to the BURNETTS should be very discreet.

BACKGROUND

Mildred Price was born October 10, 1899, in Rockingham County, North Carolina, near Madison, North Carolina. Records of the North Carolina Womens College at Greensboro reflect that Mildred Price attended the institution for three years from 1918 to 1921, and that her address was Madison, Rockingham County, North Carolina, RFD. The records reflect that Mildred Price had attended a preparatory school at Miami, Florida.

Records of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill disclosed that Mildred Price entered the University in the Fall of 1921 to take a Bachelor of Arts Degree, which Degree was awarded her in June, 1922.

Records maintained by the University of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois, disclosed that Mildred Price matriculated at the University on September 30, 1927, as a candidate for a Master of Arts Degree and was in attendance throughout the autumn of 1927 and winter of 1928 and during the spring and summer of 1928. On March 18, 1930, a Degree of Master of Arts in Sociology was conferred upon her.

Lucien Koch, the director of Commonwealth College at Mena, Arkansas testified before the Joint Committee of the Arkansas Assembly and advised that Mildred Price was a member of the faculty at the college since 1935. He stated that previously Price had come to the college from North Carolina. While testifying, Koch remarked that the teachers at the school received no salary and only received room, board and other limited necessities in return for their services. He stated that the college taught Communism and other forms of economic beliefs. Koch denied to the Joint Committee of the Arkansas Assembly that the college as such had ever advocated the forcible overthrow of the government of the State of Arkansas or of the United States.

In 1935, Mildred Price Coy appeared before the Joint Investigating Committee of the 50th General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, then investigating the activities of Commonwealth College. At that time Mildred Price testified she was thirty-four years of age, had been married for five years and that she and her husband, Harold Coy, were the parents of a two and one half year old child. Mildred Price stated that she and her husband had come to the Commonwealth College in the Fall of 1931 and that she was affiliated with the college for a period of four years but added that she and her husband travelled for portions of each year, stating "we went to Spain this last year." Mildred Price stated that she gave a lecture on current events each week and was in charge of the "labor orientation course." She stated that she also taught general courses on art, literature and geography.

An affidavit sworn to and subscribed on December 16, 1933, by Bert Hodge, who identified himself as a maintenance worker at Commonwealth College in Arkansas, stated that Mildred Price was a member of the Commonwealth College Association. It will be noted that Hodge claimed that revolution was openly taught and advocated at the college and that immorality was practiced at the college. Bert Hodge asked for a Federal investigation of the activities at Commonwealth College.

It will be noted that Commonwealth College ceased operations in August of 1940. The corporate charter of the college was revoked upon investigation of criminal proceedings brought by the State of Arkansas on January 29, 1941, for failure to display the American flag and for displaying an illegal emblem (the hammer and sickle) and teaching anarchy. At the time of the trial many books, pamphlets and articles taken from the school library and dealing with the subject of Communism were introduced as evidence to prove the teaching of Communism at the school. The illegal emblem referred to was proved to be embedded in the floor of a college building and witnesses at the trial stated that the flag was not displayed during class sessions.

From an unidentified source, during January of 1938, there was received information that Mildred Price, who was then a professor at Commonwealth College was active in the CIO field. Informant indicated that Mildred Price was a petitioner through the Fellowship of Reconciliation for United States Recognition of Russia in 1933.

From an anonymous outside source on May 12, 1938, it was determined that Mildred Price was a writer who contributed articles to the Federated Press during the period beginning January 17, 1937, and ending April 5, 1938.

Grace Call Albertson, who at one time was employed by the Southern School for Workers near Ashville, North Carolina, advised that Mildred Price, then residing at 668 4th Avenue, New York City, was at one time an instructor in English and public speaking at this school. The informant stated that Price was affiliated with the China Aid Council and was married to Harold Coy. According to the informant, it was her belief that Mildred Price was a member of the Communist Party, but stated he had no definite proof of that fact. With respect to the Southern School for Workers, Grace Albertson advised that it had been originally organized by Louise Leonard McLaren and that, while the school was not financially backed by the Communist Party, nevertheless it is considered an excellent school for workers and especially for those active in labor union work. According to the informant, Leonard McLaren, while not a member of the Communist Party, frequently calls upon the party for assistance in recruiting students to attend the school.

Through the close cooperation of [REDACTED] Agents of the Washington Field Division in 1941 were able to obtain a copy of a 3 by 5 index card system entitled, "Members List," which was maintained by the Washington Committee for Democratic Action. Included on this list was the name of Miss Mildred Price. b7c b7D

Also through cooperation with [REDACTED] Agents of the Washington Field Division were furnished with a list of names and addresses of individuals and organizations which were contained in the active indices of the National Federation for Constitutional Liberties. These names were believed to have been accumulated by the Reverend Owen A. Knox and by the American League for Peace and Democracy. Included on this list is the name of Mildred Price, executive secretary, China Aid Council, 200 5th Avenue, New York City. b7c b7D

During 1942, the official files of the Political and Labor Bail Fund in New York City reflected that Mildred Price and Harold Coy, whose address was given as 1612 K Street, Northwest, Washington, D. C., were among those who had either deposited funds or had sought the services of the organization in connection with its Political Prisoners Bail Fund.

It will be noted that the organization Political and Labor Bail Fund operated in connection with the League for Mutual Aid. Depositors to the fund included the Communist Party, the Young Communist League, the Workers Alliance and numerous other organizations and labor unions.

Confidential Informant [REDACTED] of the New York Field Division ascertained that in 1942 Mildred Price was the executive secretary of the China Aid Council, which group was combined with the American Committee for Chinese Orphans. The informant stated that the American Committee for Chinese Orphans was incorporated on January 19, 1939, and that a certificate of consolidation with the China Aid Council was issued on August 3, 1941. According to the informant, the China Aid Council was originally organized to raise funds for medical and refugee aid under the name of Chinese Red Cross. It was mentioned the council was operated as a division of the American League for Peace and Democracy in New York City. At that time, the China Aid Council was an agency of the United China Relief, Incorporated. b7c b7D had been advised by Mildred Price that the China Aid Council supported various projects in China, including four international base hospitals and that the funds of the Council were raised by contributions as well as funds received from United China Relief, Incorporated. According to this informant, Mildred Price stated on October, 1941, that $20,000 was sent to China for medical supplies and $10,000 was sent for the support of war orphans. The present address for the China Aid Council is given as 200 5th Avenue, New York City. b7c b7D

According to a report received by the New York Field Division from Dun and Bradstreet in New York, Mildred Price was not listed with the China Aid Council during 1939, but on January 19, 1939, this report indicated that the American Council Committee for Chinese War Orphans, Incorporated, included among its officials, Mildred Price as executive secretary.

The publication entitled "Directory of Chinese Organizations," published April 20, 1940, reflects that Mildred Price as of that date was the director of the China Aid Council at 268 4th Avenue, New York City. Dr. Claude E. Forkner was listed as chairman.

Mary Price and Mildred Price made a trip to Russia and were gone for about two months. b7c b7D

The records of the Election Bureau, 400 Broome Street, New York City, disclosed that Mildred Price resided at the following addresses from 1936 to 1942:

1936 - 107 East 10th Street, Apartment 5, New York City;
1937 - 3 West 15th Street, New York City;
1939 - 226 West 25th Street, New York City;
1940 - 258 West 17th Street, New York City;
1941 - 258 West 17th Street, New York City;
1942 - 258 West 17th Street, New York City.

Herbert Bissett, who is the superintendent at 3 West 15th Street, advised that Mildred Price lived at this address for a period of one year around 1937. Bissett stated that Price was Communistic in her talking and that rumor had it that she was a Communist. He declared that he believed Mildred Price moved to Washington, D. C., when she left the apartment there. Mr. Jack Reynolds, who was the superintendent at 258 West 17th Street, prior to June of 1940, advised that he moved Mildred Price from that address in May of 1940. He stated that he noticed that she had a number of books and Communistic pamphlets and materials and that she had two large filing cabinets which he described as being extremely heavy and the contents of which he did not see. It is noted that Reynolds informed that Mildred Price was a Communist and associated with people who were known to be Communists.

Mrs. Helen Martin, who was the superintendent at 258 West 17th Street subsequent to June of 1940, advised that Mildred Price resides there in apartment 508. Mrs. Martin said that Mildred Price, who is Mrs. Harold Coy, used her maiden name for business reasons, that Mildred Price frequently gave dinner parties and Chinese often visited her at her apartment. According to Mrs. Martin, she found Communist literature in the incinerator which had come from the Price apartment. Mrs. Martin advised that she does not know whether Mildred Price is a member of the Communist Party or not, but that she has heard that she is a member.

[REDACTED] at 420 West 118th Street, advised that Harold Coy and Mildred Price had been residing in apartment 23 since October of 1942. [REDACTED] furnished Agents of the New York Office with trash materials which came from the subject's apartment. It was noted that Mildred Price received copies of the following publications and letters: "In Fact"; the monthly bulletin of the India League of America b7c b7D and entitled, "India Today"; a letter dated January 19, 1944, addressed to the members of the American Council Institute of Pacific Relations and signed Harriet Moore, Acting Secretary; a letter addressed to Mildred Price under the letterhead of the Joint Anti Fascist Refugee Committee; a copy of a letter dated January 22, 1943, addressed to Mildred Price which thanked her in the name of the Joint Anti Fascist Refugee Committee for the generous contributions she made recently for a dinner held in honor of Lillian Hellman; two copies of letters from the Committee For a United Labor Party, New York County, which were addressed to Enrolled Voter the American Labor Party.

COMMUNIST BACKGROUND

The records of the New York City Police Department Special Squad were examined by Agents for the New York Field Division and it was noted that Mildred Price was described therein as a Communist but no further information concerning her was set out.

A letter received from the San Diego Field Division dated March 8, 1942, enclosed a memorandum captioned "Russian Couriers," which was dated January 22, 1942. The San Diego Office advised that the information had originally been received from Vernon R. Tompkins, Metuchen, New Jersey. Speaking of the Russian Courier setup in the United States, Tompkins stated that "The main tipoff now....for the Communist force in Washington was a Tass Telegraph Agency. This is under the supervision of Lawrence Todd....and one of the chiefs of the crew is Mildred Price." According to Tompkins, Tass had established two listening posts somewhere on the East Coast.

Subsequently in the memorandum, Tompkins stated "...there seems to be an unusual interest in Mildred Price. This Price woman made so many trips between March, 1931, and 1936 to Europe that we could not actually give the number. We know of at least seven. We also know of numerous South American trips, one to Australia, numerous trips to the Orient — in fact she was always on the go. The statement has made that the Price woman was married. There was only one person that we had contact with that could tell us what her married name is and that person is Samuel Freeman, who is reported to be in Lisbon at the present time."

From an anonymous outside source there was received a report dated February 4, 1942, captioned "International Press Correspondence." This report stated that the International League of the Communist Party, ECCI, was formerly known as Imprebor, which meant International Press Correspondence. The report stated that during the early part of the summer of 1939 a meeting was held in Switzerland to revive and put new life into this branch of the ECCI, referring to the International Press Correspondence. According to the report received, the meeting was held at Geneva, Switzerland, and there were some sixty individuals from various parts of the world in attendance. The report then stated that it was the firm belief of the writer that Comrade Comrorski, "who is now in charge of the Daily Worker office at Chicago, "was on the continent at that time." The report described Comrorski as formerly in charge of the Commonwealth College at Mena, Arkansas, and added he is a lieutenant of Mildred Price.

A confidential source on October 26, 1942, furnished a report on Communist activity in the Caribbean area. It will be noted that Grace Granich, mentioned above, a prominent suspect in the Comrap investigation, is alleged to be engaged as a Soviet Agent.

Fred Douglas in 1928 visited Germany, Holland, London and Paris and contacted Koumaning in Amsterdam, Rotterdam and London which were closely associated with the Workers International Relief. Douglas wrote for the Daily Worker and made a trip to Russia about 1938 as a member of the rank and file delegation. He is a close acquaintance of Charles Recht.

Mr. James Shannon, caretaker, Yaddo Foundation, Saratoga Springs, New York, advised that Mildred Price wrote a letter to Agnes Smedley on December 28, 1944. In this letter Price wrote "and the good news is that I have a way to send the cultural funds. A friend of Madam Sun Yat-sen is Fred Douglas of the OWI in Kunming. His wife was in today and she said she could send the money to Fred and get him to turn it over to Madam Sun Yat-sen. ....I'll send it to Mrs. Douglas in Boston who will in turn send it to Fred by money order -- Mrs. Douglas is O.K."

Agnes Smedley has been known to give talks on China and the Chinese Communist Party over the radio at New York City and has been a frequent speaker before various groups and societies in the East. She has also written articles on China for PM in 1944. While claiming not to be a member of the Communist Party, it has been noted that she speaks favorably about the Chinese Communist Army and Russia.

On March 23, 1945, through a technical surveillance it was ascertained that Phil Jaffe had a conversation with a Miss Price, who was apparently with the China Aid Council. Price advised Jaffe that she and Agnes Smedley had had breakfast with a man from M.I.T., a biochemist, who has been working with the F.E.A. Miss Price stated, "He told us a lot of things about our own government's attitude toward China and he said that when Wallace came back, Wallace talked to him about it and Wallace had no hope for China except for Communist areas."

On April 16, through a technical surveillance, a conversation between Phil Jaffe and Y. Y. Hsu of the Institute of Pacific Relations disclosed a mention of Mildred Price. Jaffe and Hsu were mentioning a meeting which apparently was to be held at five o'clock, and Jaffe asked whether Hsu got Mildred, apparently referring to Mildred Price. Hsu stated that he had. At 5:04 p.m. on April 15, through a technical surveillance, a conversation between Jaffe and Mrs. Y. Y. Hsu also contained a reference to Mildred Price. Mrs. Hsu was telling Jaffe what action Hsu had taken relative to some meeting which was apparently to take place the following day, and Jaffe asked whether Mildred had been contacted. Mrs. Hsu stated that Larry Rossinger had been, but Mildred Price had not as yet been called. She asked Jaffe whether he wanted Hsu to call Mildred, and Jaffe stated that he thought he did.

On April 21, at 11:35 a.m., through a technical surveillance, it was determined that Irma Jaffe called Phil Jaffe and they spoke about a dinner for the following evening. Jaffe stated he was asking Mildred Price and Ralph Sevas (phonetic) to join them.

On April 24, 1945, at 11:45 a.m., through a technical surveillance, it was determined that Mildred (probably Mildred Price) called Jaffe and they discussed one Allen of Allen-Kenin Associates, 119 West 57th Street. These individuals were apparently publicity agents and Phil stated that they would handle some unspecified work very well. He stated, "They're good liberals and you just give them whatever advice you think." Mildred then stated that Madam Sun wanted a sulpha kit and vaccines and she wanted to know how to arrange for them. She stated that Wilma Fairbank suggested she try Jack Service and ask him if General Stilwell would give her any advice. She indicated she had written to Service but had not received an answer. She also stated that Wilma had told her that Michael Lee of the F.E.A. and Major Herbert Little of the O.S.S. would give her advice. Phil Jaffe stated that Michael Lee would be of no value but Jack Service would be a good man to give her the information desired. Mrs. Price then stated that Mrs. Carter told her that she knew Major Little, and that he used to be with the I.P.R. Phil concluded the conversation by stating that he knew Michael Lee quite well himself, and that he was a very good friend of Alvin Barber and Hilda Austern.

At 4:18 p.m. that same date, through a technical surveillance, it was determined that Jaffe called Mildred Price of the China Aid Council, and stated he was going to see Service that night and would call her later about it. They were apparently referring to the previous conversation mentioned above.

On June 4, 1945, a technical surveillance reflected that Mildred Price contacted Philip Jaffe and during their conversation Jaffe suggested to her that she should invite Mark Gayn and his wife to their meeting on Friday and that following the meeting the party would go out for dinner.

It was indicated that the meeting was to take place at the home of Stanley Isaacs, 14 East 96th Street, New York City. Their conversation then pertained to various Chinese refugee associations.

Through a search of the effects of Thomas Bisson, who is a contact of Philip Jaffe, there was furnished a typewritten list entitled "Regular Members of the Communist Party," included on this list was the name of Mildred Price.

Introduction

The informant Elizabeth Terrill Bentley stated that she first became aware of John Spivak during the summer of 1942. She stated that she never met him or saw him but described him as being a writer who did considerable investigating in connection with his writings and also on the specific request of Golos. She said that Golos paid Spivak his traveling expenses plus some compensation and she recalled having seen some receipts in Golos' possession executed by Spivak. According to the informant, the subject traveled considerably on instructions from Golos and went to Mexico and California to conduct an investigation concerning the Japanese for Golos. He was also sent to Texas to obtain information concerning Congressman Martin Dies. Informant stated that Spivak's association with Golos continued until the latter's death in November of 1943 and that, thereafter, Bill, who was the first successor to Golos, requested her to return to him some material of Spivak which he was holding. However, she did not do this.

Background

John L. Spivak has been described as a writer, author, and speaker on anti-Nazi and anti-Fascist matters. For the past fifteen years he has devoted most of his time to gathering information and writing books and articles, and delivering speeches in an attempt to expose alleged Nazi and Fascist elements in this country. He has directed much of his activity towards alleged anti-Semitic persons and organizations but many of his statements and public accusations have been found to be inaccurate and not susceptible of proof.

He was born on June 13, 1897, in New Haven, Connecticut. According to one report he is the son of Louis and Ida Sara (Sickoloff) Spivak, and another report states he is the son of Louis and Fanny Spiewak. His nationality is said to be Bohemian-American. He was educated in the public schools of New Haven and in 1916 he worked as a cub reporter for the New Haven Union. From 1918 to 1921 he was a reporter for the New York Sun and in 1921 and 1922 he acted as a foreign correspondent for the International News Service in Berlin and Moscow, resigning from this position while still in Moscow. In addition to his parents, he is known to have the following relatives: Robert G. Spivak, brother, who was the leader

Spivak found a printer named Max Wagner who testified before the House Committee Investigating Communist Propaganda in 1930 that he had printed some of the letterheads. It was charged that Spivak and one Horan of the Universal News Service tried to bribe Georg Djangaroff of the ABC News Service to state that the documents were forgeries and that he had ordered them printed by Wagner. Djangaroff testified that Spivak told him that the Amtorg Trading Corporation would give a lot of money to the person who proved that the "Whalen Documents" were forgeries.

Re: HAROLD RUSSELL COY

117 May 1943 5/8/46
#254 269

The following information pertaining to Harold Coy was obtained from a review of the Bureau's files.

Background

Records of Selective Service Board No. 18, 1133 Broadway, New York City, reflect that Harold Coy, 258 West 17th Street is registered with that Board, Order No. 10358. On May 19, 1942, Coy completed his Selective Service questionnaire and it was therein disclosed by him that he was born September 24, 1902 at LaHabra, California; that he married Mildred Price on December 21, 1929, at Chicago, Illinois. Harold Coy informed that he attended the University of Arizona and received a B.A. Degree from that school; that for a period of twelve weeks one summer, not specified, he attended Arizona University and did graduate work in Economics and Spanish there. In addition, it was stated that Coy attended the American University at Washington, D. C., and took a course in Economics in the evening school. Coy listed his occupation as that of publicity director, newspaper editor and writer, and administrative officer, who supervised committee activities from 1929 to 1941. Coy stated that during the past two years he has worked in New York and New Jersey; that from 1941 to March, 1942, he was employed as a director of field activities for the Russian War Relief, Inc., 535 Fifth Avenue, New York City, and added that for the past two and one-half years "I have been employed by various nonprofit philanthropic agencies, usually as publicity director." As of the date on which the questionnaire was executed, May 19, 1942, Coy was unemployed. A subsequent notation appearing in the Selective Service file, dated August 3, 1942, reflects that Harold Coy was employed by the New York "Daily News" as a radio broadcast writer.

By a letter dated June 14, 1943, Coy stated that his work with the New York "Daily News" was that of an assistant executive in a department which produced twenty-four radio news summaries daily. He explained that his duties concerned operations, personnel, editing and copywriting.

With respect to his immediate family, Harold Coy indicated on May 19, 1942, his niece, Frances Chandler, was living with him and attending Barnard College, Columbia University, New York City. Coy stated that Chandler was entirely dependent upon him. On a subsequent date in June of 1943, Coy informed his Selective Service Board that Frances Chandler was no longer classified by him as a dependent and was employed training for war work with the Curtiss Wright Aeronautical Corporation. It will be noted that Harold Coy indicated that he was the owner of a house at Tucson, Arizona, and it is further noted that in his questionnaire, Coy informed that he and his wife, Mildred Price Coy, had no children.

With particular reference to the statement of Harold Coy that he and his wife had no children, attention is directed to the testimony of Mildred Price Coy on February 16, 1935, before a Joint Investigating Committee of the Fiftieth General Assembly, of the State of Arkansas, wherein she advised that she was married to Harold Coy and that they had one child, a boy then two and one-half years old.

Association with Commonwealth College

Among the exhibits pertaining to Commonwealth College, Mena, Arkansas, which were introduced before the Joint Investigating Committee of the Fiftieth General Assembly for the State of Arkansas in 1935, was an unsigned and undated memorandum regarding the organization of the college. The memorandum contained a list of the officials and faculty of the college in the year 1926 and included therein was the name of Harold Russell Coy as a member of the faculty teaching English and Labor Journalism.

A prospectus of Commonwealth College, dated September 15, 1932, introduced before the Investigating Committee for the State of Arkansas, reflected that Harold Coy, a graduate of the University of Arizona in the year 1924, a newspaperman and labor research director, was a member of the faculty of the college teaching Imperialism and World History.

The April 1, 1932 issue of the Commonwealth College "Fortnightly" reflects that a delegation from Commonwealth College headed by Lucien Koch, Director of the College and including Harold Coy, then a teacher of Current History, Sam Sandberg, Leo Gruliov and Isaac Greenberg, students at the College, went to Harlan County, Kentucky, with food for the striking miners there and a copy of the Bill of Rights for the sheriff of Harlan County. The article relates that the delegation held protest meetings and made stump speeches en-route to Harlan County.

According to the April 15, 1932 issue of the "Fortnightly," a delegation which included Harold Coy was reported to have been beaten by thugs in Harlan County and turned over to a mob. The publication reported that the delegation was ordered out of Pineville, Kentucky, and was taken to approximately fifty feet of the Virginia State Line where they were beaten and ordered across the border.

Isaac Greenberg, mentioned above, is presently an active Communist Party member in the State of Michigan.

Leo Sergeyevich Gruliov was as of 1944, the American representative for Russian War Relief in Moscow, U.S.S.R. During the period from 1933 to 1941, Gruliov was connected with the Moscow "Daily News" in the U.S.S.R.

A copy of the Commonwealth College "Fortnightly" issue of August 15, 1932, contained an article "Why Don't We Talk American?" which article purportedly was written by Harold Coy, instructor at the College. The theme of the article was an appeal to "the radicals" to talk in a language which is understood by the American people. The conclusion of the article as expressed by Coy, was to the effect that "We who want a new social order rather than merely a new income tax scheme are so much poorer than he (Huey P. Long) in our talent for putting our message across."

On October 1, 1932, the Commonwealth College "Fortnightly" carried a news item reporting that Harold Coy was leaving the College during the Fall quarter of that year. Harold Coy was indicated to be a teacher of Current Events and it was stated that Mildred Price, his wife, and Christopher, his small son, would be in attendance at the College after October. The article related that Coy was going to work for the Community Fund of St. Louis "at a job similar to the one he held before he came to Commonwealth a year ago."

The Commonwealth College "Fortnightly" issue of December 1, 1932, contained what purported to be a "labor skit" entitled "Arisen From the Ranks or From Office Boy to President." The skit was written by Harold Coy. It was indicated that the skit was first written in 1923 and had been produced many times for various groups all over the United States.

The Commonwealth College "Fortnightly" issue of May 1, 1933, contained an article entitled "Commonwealth's First Ten Years: Appraisal," by Harold Coy. In this article, Coy makes frequent reference to the College as an institution "hospitable to liberal and radical ideas." He spoke of the graduates and students of the College as hoping that they would act as a unifying force in the militant labor movement.

According to the testimony of Mildred Price Coy before the Investigating Committee for the State of Arkansas, referred to above, she stated that she, and indicated her husband as well, had come to Commonwealth College in the Fall of 1931; and were as of the time she testified, February 16, 1935, still affiliated with the College. Mildred Price Coy added that during 1934, she and her husband had gone to Spain and said, "You see, we go away some months out of each year."

According to a confidential informant who had access to certain of the personal effects of Mildred Price Coy during 1942, there was found by him a card from the St. Louis Public Library #E 912, which expired March 25, 1933. This card was in the name of Harold Coy, St. Charles Hotel, 1709 Carr Street, St. Louis, Missouri. This same informant furnished a receipt for the payment of a premium to the Aetna Life Insurance Company, dated June 15, 1935, in the name of Harold Coy, Commonwealth College.

The National Republic Magazine issue of August, 1938, contained the membership of the National Advisory Committee of Commonwealth College including the name of Harold Coy.

A report of Claude Williams, Director of the Commonwealth College Association, dated February 25, 1939, indicated that Harold Coy served on the National Advisory Board of the College at that time.

A highly confidential source furnished to Agents of the Little Rock Field Division, the names and addresses of students, teachers, campers, maintenance workers, visitors and friends of the College, which index file was maintained by the College. Included was the name of Harold Coy and that of Mildred Price, 226 West 25th Street, New York City. The same index file listed the following former addresses for Harold Coy: Apartment 4A, 82 Horatio; Apartment 5W, 107 East Tenth Street; 3 West Fifteenth Street; and Federated Press, 30 Irving Place, all of New York City, and the address, 1612 K Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. There were notations on the index file possibly reflecting attendance at the College, which were 4 - 26, 1 - 32, 3 - 32, Fall of 1933 and 1934.

Association With The Federated Press

Confidential Informant [REDACTED] in a report September 17, 1937, advised that Harold Coy, who was in the New York Federated Press Office, appeared to him, the informant, as the one who directed the policies of the Federated Press. The informant advised that Coy seemed to be a Communist Party member although he stated he had no factual basis for his statement. b7D

Copies of the Federated Press from January 17, 1937 through April 21, 1938, were examined and it was noted that Harold Coy was one of the writers contributing articles to this publication. b2

According to a release put out by the Federated Press Agricultural Bureau, 416 North Franklin Street, St. Paul, Minnesota, under date of January 22, 1938, Harold Coy was the Eastern Bureau manager of the Federated Press at 30 Irving Place, New York, New York. The release referred to, reflected that Coy was sending out literature in an effort to organize the farmers.

In an article appearing in the Federated Press for February 7, 1938, there was contained information pertaining to the Nineteenth Annual Meeting of the publication at Chicago, Illinois. The article stated that the work of Harold Coy, the Eastern Bureau manager, was commended at the annual meeting.

Through the services of a highly confidential source, certain material prepared and maintained by the Federated Press in New York City, was made available including a memorandum prepared by Dr. Carl Haessler, dated April 4, 1940. This memorandum was a short history of the founding of the Federated Press and it was noted therein that Haessler stated that in 1928, the business office of the Federated Press was moved from Chicago to New York City with Harvey O'Connor in charge. Haessler then stated O'Connor was followed by Frank I. Palmer, and he in turn by Harold Coy. It will be noted that Haessler did not indicate when Harold Coy was in charge of the business office for the Federated Press.

In an article which originally was alleged to have been printed by the publication "Editor and Publisher," dated August 13, 1938, the author of the article, John R. Whiting, recounted the influence of the Federated Press in the progressive and labor journals of the country. The article stated that the Federated Press was directed by Mark Stone, who had replaced "veteran Harold Coy, who resigned to take over the 'editorship' of the Federal Writers Project."

Confidential Informant [REDACTED] in a report dated September 17, 1941, stated that the Federated Press was closely associated with Moscow, U.S.S.R. and that the Tass Agency formerly permitted Lawrence Todd, their Washington representative, to also represent the Federated Press. The informant reported b7C b7D that "every person of any prominence who has travelled around the world and visited many countries where later on trouble was stirred up, has carried an F.P. credential. This informant then listed among others, the name of Harold Coy as being associated with the Federated Press. It will be noted that the information furnished by the informant is unverified.

Association With The Federal Writers Project - WPA

Testimony taken before the Dies Committee on November 19 and December 6, 1938, reflects that Harold Coy was employed by the Federal Writers Project and according to the testimony of Florence D. Shreve, Coy was the editor-in-chief of the Federal Writers Project to publish guide books. It was indicated from her testimony and from the testimony of others, that the Federal Writers Project had undertaken the task of compiling, writing and editing information pertaining to the separate states to be used as a tourist guide book for that particular state. As referred to above, Florence Shreve on November 19, 1938, testified that she was in charge of publications for the Writers Project and that material which she considered to be propaganda and agitating for class hatred and struggle, was included in the guide books to be published by the Writers Project. She testified that it was her belief that the objectionable material was inserted in the manuscripts after they were approved by members of the staff of the Writers Project and before the time the manuscripts appeared in galley form for the printer. She testified that the "New Jersey Guide" was the most flagrant example of this unauthorized editing and said that the copy for the "New Jersey Guide" was taken from her office by "Mr. Coy and kept by him for more than a week and when it finally came back it had pages of notations to be inserted and they are in handwriting and everyone of these new notations is inflammatory."

On November 19, 1938, Mrs. Louise Lazell testified before the Dies Committee and stated that she was employed by the Federal Writers Project to delete objectionable material from the writings to be published by the Project. From her testimony, Mrs. Lazell stated that the Project had experienced considerable difficulty by the insertion of inflammatory remarks in connection with the publication of the "New Jersey Guide." Mrs. Lazell testified that the material for the "New Jersey Guide" was sent to the printer by Harold Coy without first being given to her who was responsible for deleting any objectionable material. Mrs. Lazell said it was her opinion that Harold Coy had placed the objectionable insertions in the "New Jersey Guide." During the course of her testimony, she said that Mr. Alsberg, the Director of the Federal Writers Project, had brought in a number of people who were not needed and put them in key positions adding, "Mr. Coy feels very safe in the protection of Mr. Aubrey Williams."

An article appearing in the Chicago Herald and Examiner issue of February 19, 1939, reported the testimony of Louise Lazell before the Dies Committee and credited her with stating that her efforts to edit out inflammatory material were defeated in many cases because her superiors added things to the copy. According to the newspaper account, Lazell named Harold Coy, assistant to Henry G. Alsberg as responsible for some changes.

On December 6, 1938, Henry G. Alsberg, the National Director for the Federal Writers Project - WPA, testified before the Dies Committee. Alsberg testified that Harold Coy was an employee of the Project and read for the Committee, the employment history of Coy prior to his assignment on the Federal Writers Project. Alsberg stated that Coy did rewrites and had special assignments on the St. Louis Star; that he was an assistant general manager of the St. Louis Provident Association; that Coy served on the Citizens' Committee on Relief and Employment in St. Louis and was publicity director for the St. Louis Community Fund. Alsberg said that Coy was the manager of the Federated Press, a news service for both of the big labor organizations. In addition, Alsberg testified that Coy's writings included articles and feature stories in "Current History," "The Survey," "The Family," "The New York Times," "The Christian Science Monitor" and the "Baltimore Evening Sun."

Alsberg commented that he was aware that Coy had been in Spain and stated that he believed that Harold Coy had taught literature at the Commonwealth College in Arkansas.

[REDACTED] advised that during 1936, Harold Coy was at that time the editor of the "Daily Worker." b2 b7D

It will be noted that a spot survey was made of issues of the "Daily Worker" covering the years 1934, 1935, 1936 and 1937, and it was observed that there was no listing of an editorial staff in those papers examined and no mention of Harold Coy as editor.

The records of the Credit Bureau of greater New York, in a report dated July 2, 1941, reveal that Harold Coy, residing with his wife, Mildred Price at 258 West 17th Street, New York City, was a writer and publicity man and that for eight weeks beginning in September, 1940, he was head of the Publicity Division for the Newark Community Chest, 24 Branford Place, Newark, New Jersey. It was stated that in July of 1941, Mr. Coy was in Washington where he was believed to be employed.

Confidential Informant [REDACTED] furnished Agents of the New York Field Division certain personal papers maintained by the Russian War Relief, Inc., which reflected that on November 12, 1941, Harold Coy was the supervisor of the national field office of the Russian War Relief. b7D

Voters' Records

The records of the Election Bureau for Manhattan contained copies of the registration of Harold Coy for the year 1936. It was noted that when Coy registered, he gave his address as 1072 - Tenth Street, Apartment 5, and indicated his previous address as 1496 Bell Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri. A b2 b7D

Foreign Travel

Washington Field Office that

Contained among the files maintained in the "New York Times" morgue, is a copy of that newspaper dated October 19, 1934, in which was stated that Harold Coy in the September issue of "Current History" discussed the question "Will Gil Robles Rule Spain?" It was pointed out that Coy was an American observer in Spain.

GENERAL ACTIVITIES

As reflected in the report of Agent Jacob Spolansky, March 3, 1923, Chicago, Illinois, which report was a survey of the activities of the Young Workers League of America, Harold Coy was listed as the organizer of the Young Workers League in San Francisco, California.

On December 16, 1923, the various branches of the Young Workers League in San Francisco and Oakland, California, with the support of the general membership of various Communist groups in the area, produced a play for the benefit of the Communist local paper "San Francisco Labor Unity" at the San Francisco Turn Verein Hall. Included in the cast of characters for the play was the name of Harold Coy. This information appears to have been obtained by Special Agent D. F. Costello from a copy of the published program for the play.

In September, 1927, Mildred Price Coy matriculated at the University of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois, where she was a candidate for a Master of Arts Degree. Professor William F. Ogburn, Chairman of the Department of Sociology at the University of Chicago, in an interview with Agents of the Chicago Field

Division, observed that Harold R. Coy, the husband of Mildred Price, was "considered a little radical."

Literature of the League for Mutual Aid furnished Agents of the New York Office by a confidential source reflects that on August 16, 1936, Harold Coy was a candidate for membership on the Executive Committee of the League for Mutual Aid. The literature of the League described Harold Coy as being a labor journalist, Eastern Bureau Manager, Federated Press and a former instructor at Commonwealth College. It stated that in 1935, Harold Coy helped organize the "Social Workers Union" in St. Louis, Missouri.

Confidential Informant [redacted] furnished Agents of the Chicago Field Division with copies of the literature distributed by the League for Mutual Aid during the year 1937. It is noted that the name of Harold Coy appeared thereon as a member of the Executive Committee of the League for Mutual Aid. b7D b2

In 1941, literature of the League for Mutual Aid disclosed that Harold Coy was a member of the National Advisory Committee of the League.

The League for Mutual Aid, according to the literature published by it, was first organized in January, 1920, for the purpose of "bringing together radicals and liberals of all shades of opinion for a mutual helpfulness." It is stated that the reasons for such an organization were that an agitator "unfits himself for a place in capitalist society with a few years of activity in the radical movement.....and the political prisoner, radical agitator or worker are potential derelicts unless they band together for self-protection."

According to a highly confidential source who had access to the records of the "Political and Labor Bail Fund," Mildred Price and Harold Coy, 1612 K Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., were either depositors to the fund or sought the service of the fund. This organization, "The Political and Labor Bail Fund," functions in connection with the League for Mutual Aid.

An examination of the table of contents of the publication "Soviet Russia Today" disclosed that in the February, 1937 issue of the publication on Page 16, there was an article "Negotiation in the Soviet Union," which article was written by Harold Coy.

On January 19, 1938, Confidential Informant [redacted] of the New York Field Division advised that Harold Coy then of the Federated Press, put [redacted] in touch with the Consumers Union. This informant stated that Miss Ross, an official of this union informed [redacted] that the real purpose and function of the Consumers Union was "to destroy the public's faith in business firms and thereby keep up agitation." b7D b2

Through a confidential source, the New York Field Office secured the national membership of the League of American Writers in December of 1941. Included on the national membership list of the League was the name, Harold Coy, 258 West 17th Street, New York City.

In an article appearing in the Federated Press issue of January 20, 1938, was an announcement that a course in journalism and publicity, which was designed to be of technical assistance to trade unionists, was offered by the Writers' School of the League of American Writers, 381 - 4th Avenue, New York City. Harold Coy of the Federated Press, Eastern Bureau manager, was described as the instructor of the course.

The pamphlet "Writers Teach Writing" published by the League of American writers in 1940, states that the school conducted by the League since its beginning in 1940, has had among its teachers and lecturers, Harold Coy.

In the publication "Writers Take Sides" published by the League of American Writers in 1938, which publication was the report of a poll of writers in the United States on the question of the Spanish Revolution, Harold Coy was listed as one who signified his loyalty to the "legal Spanish government."

[REDACTED] advised the New York Field Division on December 11, 1942, that Harold Coy, 258 West 17th Street, New York City, was a teacher at the "Workers School" and according to the informant, Harold Coy was described as a member of the Communist Party. b2 b7D

CONTACTS AND ASSOCIATES

Maurice Howe, executive assistant to the chief of the Federal Writers Project, WPA, during 1941, informed that Harold Coy, who at one time was editor-in chief at the Federal Writers Project, was an associate of Jerre Gerlando Mangione. The informant stated that Harold Coy was brought to Washington from New York City by Mangione and introduced to Henry Alsberg, the director of the Federal Writers Project. According to this source, Coy had pronounced views regarding social injustice, which at the time were in accordance with the views commonly expressed by those who possessed Communist sympathies. Maurice Howe said that after Coy left the employ of the WPA, he went to New York City where he published a magazine known as "Equality."

On December 31, 1943, an envelope addressed to Harold Coy and his wife, Mildred Coy, bore the initials J. M. and the address 1940 Delancey Place, at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. According to the files of the Philadelphia Field Division, Jerre Gerlando Mangione resides at that address and it was noted by the Philadelphia Office that he probably was identical with the signers of the envelope referred to.

Mangione was born March 20, 1909, at Rochester, New York. During the year, 1934, he was reported to be associated with one Trachtenberg, a member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party. Mangione was employed by the Federal Writers Project from 1937 to 1939 and on July 15, 1940, was employed as an information specialist by the Alien Registration Division of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Information received indicates that Mangione was connected with the "Labor Defender," the publication of the International Labor Defense. Mangione, who is now the assistant commissioner in charge of public relations, Central Office, Immigration and Naturalization Service, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, was during 1941, the subject of an extensive Hatch Act investigation by the Bureau.

It will be noted elsewhere in this memorandum that Mrs. Louise Lazell in testifying before the Dies Committee in 1938, indicated a close relationship between Harold Coy and Aubrey Williams.

An article appearing in the "Hunterdon Republican," published at Hunterdon, New Jersey, under date of February 15, 1945, captioned "Aubrey Williams Has Long Record as Red Fellow Traveler," makes reference to Harold Coy. The article states that the most flagrant of Williams' appointments of Communists to Government positions was that of Harold Coy, who, according to the article, began his Communist career as an organizer of the Young Workers League in San Francisco, California. The article states that Williams placed Coy in full charge of the editorial work of the Federal Writers Project of the WPA and adds that "as a result of the exposure of Communist domination of the Writers Project in which Williams' appointee, Coy, was the leading figure, Congress abolished the project."

Aubrey Willis Williams of 5107 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, Virginia, was born August 23, 1890, at Springfield, Alabama. In 1933, he was appointed a field representative of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration and was appointed assistant administrator, FERA, and Civil Works Administration from 1933 until in 1935 he was appointed assistant Works Project administrator and became executive director of the National Youth Administration in the same year, in which capacity he continued until 1943. Williams was the subject of a Hatch Act investigation conducted by the Bureau in 1942.

In January, 1939, George O. Pershing was arrested at Oklahoma City while representing the Medical Bureau and North American Committee to aid Spanish Democracy. At the time of his arrest, he had in his possession a list of the names of persons in various sections of the United States whom he was supposed to contact. A copy of this list of names was furnished to the Bureau by the Oklahoma City Police Department. Included on the list was the name of Harold Coy, Federated Press, 30 Irving Place, New York City. It will be noted that Pershing was in Oklahoma City with the avowed intention of organizing groups for the aid of the Spanish Loyalists.

According to Confidential Informant [REDACTED] which is a technical surveillance maintained on the National Maritime Union of America at New York City, on December 15, 1942, Sperow Galanopoulos, acting editor of "The Pilot," suggested that Lowell Chamberlain, who is identified as a former editor of "The Pilot," contact Harold Coy and John Dumm of Federated Press concerning the matter which he, Chamberlain, was interested in. b2 b7D

Donald Henderson is the general president of the United Cannery, Agricultural, Packing and Allied Workers - CIO and his office is located at 1505 Race Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Henderson has been named in the Dies Committee records as a member of the Communist Party and admittedly he was at one time secretary of the American League Against War and Fascism. He is reported to be a close contact of Earl Browder and it is known that in the Philadelphia area he is in frequent contact with the known Communist Party functionaries.

Eugene David was the educational director of the Communist Political Association, District No. 8 in Chicago, Illinois. In November of 1944, he acted as the associate editor of the "Daily Worker" in the Chicago area and it has been determined that in 1932, he was associated with Commonwealth College at Mena, Arkansas.

Among the personal effects maintained by Grace Granich, copies of which were furnished to Agents of the New York Field Division in 1945, there were two envelopes, one bearing the typewritten address, Mildred and Harold Coy, 420 - 118th Street, New York City, New York and the return address of R. Brown, Caixa Postal 25, Santarem, Para, Brazil. The other envelope was addressed to Mrs. Grace Granich, 207 Fourth Avenue, Room 902, New York City. It was marked personal and bore the return address, #33, 420 West 118th Street, New York 27, which will be noted is the address of Harold and Mildred Coy. This source furnished a copy of a letter dated March 14, 1944, received in the envelope bearing the return address of R. Brown in Brazil. The letter was addressed "Dearest Millie and Harold" and gave an account of the writer's experiences in the Amazon region of Brazil. The writer stated that Bob (presumably the writer's husband) was still interested in archaeology, and advised that it was their hope, the writer's and Bob's, "to get more war work done." During the course of the letter, the writer stated, "Now the State Department is being reorganized, we have an idea maybe we could do useful Government work in some of the countries we know so well" and added, "If you see Manny or Grace, perhaps they know something about it." The writer identified herself in the letter as a writer of juvenile books, one of which was called "Two Children and Their Jungle Zoo," published by Lippincott. The writer's husband, Bob, was indicated to have written the book, "Amazing Amazon."

Information from Elizabeth Terrill Bentley indicates that the captioned individual, while President of the Hemisphere News Service in New York, furnished information and copies of his publication "Hemisphere" to her organization. After moving to Washington and becoming affiliated with the Office of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs, he furnished the contents of secret government reports, including those from the Bureau. According to the informant, he has furnished no information since entering the State Department in 1944.

A search of the Bureau files reflects that Miller was born April 5, 1910, at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He remained in the United States until August, 1934, residing at Baltimore, Maryland, Boston, Massachusetts, and New York City. No information has been developed concerning his education or his activities during this period, although he apparently became a newspaper reporter by profession.

On August 29, 1934, he left the United States arriving in Moscow, Russia, September 12, 1934, allegedly for a visit. However, while there he obtained employment as correspondent for the Chattanooga, Tennessee, News and remained in the Soviet Union until June, 1937. While there he was married on December 3, 1935, to Jenny Levy, an American-born employee of the Academy of Sciences in Moscow. According to the informant, it was during his residence in Moscow that Miller became interested in Communist philosophy.

From June, 1937, to August, 1938, Miller and his wife resided in Paris, France, their address during at least a portion of this time being 7 Square de la Dordogne. Their first son, Robert Talbott Miller, IV, was born October 30, 1937, at Neuilly-s-Seine, France. His employment in France was evidently also that of a newspaperman, probably with Reuters Agency of London.

From October, 1939, to September, 1941, Miller resided in Knickerbocker Village, #10 Monroe Street, New York City, and was President of the Hemisphere News Service as well as editor of the weekly publication "Hemisphere" printed by that Service.

On September 11, 1941, Miller and his family moved to Washington, D.C., and took up residence at 3060 Porter Street, N.W. They remained at this address until October 13, 1944, when they purchased their present home located at 3223 Northampton Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. Miller came to Washington as an analyst for the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs, Department of Commerce, at an annual salary of $6,500 and later became Director of the Division of Reports of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs. In July, 1944, he transferred to the State Department. Since then he has been assigned to the Near Eastern Division of the State Department handling confidential matters pertaining to relations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

On January 10, 1945, Miller became seriously ill, apparently with pneumonia, and spent some time in the Garfield Hospital in Washington. Following this illness, he left Washington February 12, 1945, spending several weeks recuperating with his parents at Mountain Lake Club, Lake Wales, Florida.

As will be noted hereafter, many of Miller's contacts are extremely suspicious, several of them being known members of the Communist Party. However, he has been careful to avoid any personal connection with Communist matters and no evidence was located in the Bureau files tending to show any Communist affiliation. XU

Robert Talbott Miller, III, is described as follows:

Poland, now deceased. She was issued Passport #474017 on April 4, 1932, and resided in Russia until 1937 when she accompanied Miller to France. She was married to him in the American Embassy at Moscow on December 3, 1935. Her employment in the Soviet Union was with the Academy of Sciences. The Millers have three children, and Mrs. Miller has apparently done no outside work since their return to the United States, although she was nominally Secretary of the Hemisphere News Service. During 1945, however, she indicated to friends that she was thinking of accepting a position with the Research Section of the CIO, Brentano's Book Store, or in the office of Dr. Ludwig Rajchman, a member of the Polish Supply Mission and Polish Representative of UNRRA. She decided against the CIO position because of her husband's position with the State Department, and a strictly confidential report of July 11, 1945, indicates that Dr. Rajchman expressed some doubt as to whether he should employ her because of her residence in Russia, and because of her husband's State Department connections. While not known to have Communist affiliations, she appears to be much more sympathetic to the Communist Party than her husband and is more open in her "Leftist" remarks.

Mrs. Miller has a sister, Florence Levy, who resided at one time at 38 Park Road, New York City, but is presently in Washington, D. C. She was employed for a time by the War Department, but in February, 1945, was reported to be employed in the Political Section of the Office of Inter-American Affairs with offices in the State Department. She is in frequent telephonic contact with the Millers and spends considerable time in the Miller's home. On December 10, 1944, an unidentified woman asked if she intended going to a discussion of "America and the New Europe" to be held that evening by the Communist Political Association at 1015 M Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. She replied that she and the Millers knew the speaker (Joseph Starobin, Foreign News editor of the Communist Daily Worker) and hinted that she would attend the meeting.

Mrs. Miller has a brother, Sol Levy, who resides in Syracuse, New York, and is in contact with her occasionally.

Robert Talbott Miller, Jr., father of subject of this memorandum, is a native of Kentucky and a retired physician of some means. He is a graduate of John Hopkins University, and at one time was a Professor in that institution specializing in tuberculosis surgery. He and his wife spend their summers in Duxbury, Massachusetts, and their winters at Mountain Lake Club, Lake Wales, Florida. He has a speaking and translating knowledge of Russian, and in early 1945 began doing translation work for the American Review of Soviet Medicine. Mrs. Miller III gave him a subscription to this magazine for Christmas of 1944. In May, 1945, attempts were being made to secure books in Russian for his use in bettering his reading and translating ability.

Subject Miller has two brothers, Major J. H. Miller, and Minte H. Miller, one being a doctor in Boston, Massachusetts, and the other is a graduate of Princeton University in 1939. Major J. H. Miller has Army Serial #O-374092 and at one time was assigned to the Army Air Corps. In May, 1945, Minte Miller was scheduled to work at the Army Institute, Washington, D. C.

Subject Miller also has a brother-in-law, Lieutenant Colonel Hamilton Robinson, who prior to 1940 was connected with the law firm Sullivan and Crowsell, 48 Wall Street, New York City. He was then Attorney for the British Purchasing Commission in Washington and is presently on duty with the Army Services of Supply at the War Department. He resides at 3300 "O" Street, N.W. He is also known as Ham and Hamel.

Hemisphere News Service

The Hemisphere News Service was incorporated under the laws of New York September 25, 1939, with an authorized capital of $25,000 and an actual capital of $9,000. Robert T. Miller, III, was President, Jack Bradley Fahy, Vice President and Treasurer, and Jennie Miller, Secretary. The organization maintained headquarters from July 1, 1940, to August 30, 1941, at 154 Nassau Street, New York City, Room 1003. Its principal activity was the publication of a weekly news bulletin pertaining to economic and financial matters in Latin America, Canada, and Alaska. This bulletin was known as "Hemisphere," and sold for $12.00 yearly. Robert Miller, III, was the editor of the publication. While primarily factual in content, these bulletins were said to incline toward a Leftist impression. The first issue appeared November 7, 1939.

In September, 1941, the Hemisphere News Service was moved to Washington, D. C., and became the Export Information Bureau, Incorporated, with offices in the Washington building. The concern was managed by Joseph B. Gregg and devoted its time exclusively to research work for the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs under a yearly contract of some $18,000. Jack Fahy allegedly left the organization six months before it moved to Washington, and at the time of the moving Miller became a Research Analyst with the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs. The organization was subsequently absorbed into the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs, having offices in Room 7876, Department of Commerce Building.

Jack Bradley Fahy, Vice President of the Hemisphere Company, was a veteran of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade in the Spanish Civil War and a former newspaperman. In the Communist Daily Worker of October 17, 1938, he published an article renouncing his membership in the Socialist Party which he accused of damaging the cause of the Spanish people. He has been reported to be a Communist, but some informants state that he is more accurately a "Left Wing Radical." He was last reported to be residing at 1040 31st Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., and an employee of the United States Department of Interior.

Joseph B. Gregg, manager of "Hemisphere," was born May 2, 1909, in Columbus, Ohio, and is married to Rose Leff Gregg. In April, 1943, he was reported to be residing at 6829 Piney Branch Road, N.W., Washington, D. C., and was a Political Adviser and Analyst in the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs. He is in close contact with subject Miller and is believed to be identical with the Gregg described by informant Bentley. At one time, he was attempting to have himself appointed to the Inter-Departmental Committee for Joint Economic Reports.

Finances

Since December 31, 1937, subject Miller has maintained an account in the Chemical Bank and Trust Company, 165 Broadway, New York City. He also maintained an account there under the name of the Hemisphere Corporation. Miller's accounts averaged about $100 and were always below the minimum of $500 required by the Bank. However, Miller was well regarded by the Bank and numerous overdrafts were approved by one William H. French, an Assistant Vice President. This consideration may have been due to the fact that Miller's father maintained custodial accounts in that bank in his own name with $20,000 to the credit of subject Miller, $65,000 to the credit of J. H. Miller, and $32,000 to M. H. Miller. The Bank subscribed to the "Hemisphere" for the use of its Foreign Department. In September, 1941, an inquiry was received by the Bank from the Riggs National Bank of Washington, D.C., signed by Hulbert T. Bisselle, Vice President. This inquiry indicated that Miller wished to borrow $3,000 on the strength of a contract between the Hemisphere Corporation and the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs. Miller was apparently unable to procure such a loan from the Riggs National Bank, and during the same month the Chemical Bank and Trust Company granted the $3,000 loan on the basis of his personal guarantee. As of November, 1944, the Security Department of the Chemical Bank and Trust Company held the following securities for Miller:

3200 shares of dividend, Shares Incorporated, par value 25¢
35 shares common stock, Ohio Oil Corporation

- 15 shares common, Northern Natural Gas
- 15 shares, Saint Joseph Lead Company
- 10 shares, Standard Brands, Union Carbide and Carbon,

- 30 shares common, Dairy Products

On December 19, 1939, Miller opened a safe-deposit box with the Chemical Safe Box Company, 165 Broadway, New York City, but closed the box June 20, 1944.

During the time he has resided in Washington, Miller has apparently maintained checking accounts at branches of the Riggs National Bank and the City Bank nearest his residence.

Contacts with Bureau

At the request of Joseph B. Shannon, member of the House of Representatives, United States Congress, on August 3, 1937, Mr. Robert Miller and party were given a tour of the Bureau's facilities on August 10, 1937.

At the request of John F. Hunter, member of the House of Representatives, United States Congress, July 11, 1938, Mr. Robert Miller and party were given a tour of the Bureau's facilities on July 8, 1938.

At the request of John W. Gwynne, member of the House of Representatives, United States Congress, on May 10, 1939, Mr. Robert T. Miller and party were given a tour of the Bureau's facilities on May 11, 1939.

There is no indication as to whether any or all of these groups may be identified with subject Miller.

In December, 1941, Robert T. Miller, Director, Division of Reports, Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs, conferred with Assistant Director D. M. ganization called the "Society for Pan-American Confraternity." As a result of this request, several reports from the New York and Washington Field Offices were directed to Mr. Nelson A. Rockefeller of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs.

In February, 1942, former Special Agent Jerry Doyle conferred with Secretary of Navy Frank Knox and Undersecretary James V. Forrestal preliminary to making a trip in Latin America. Thereafter, at the request of Mr. Forrestal, Doyle had lunch with John Nitze, a former employee of Mr. Forrestal, then assistant to Milo Perkins. Nitze was accompanied by Robert Miller, who was described as being in charge of intelligence for the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs. Nitze explained that he brought Miller to lunch since Miller provided intelligence reports to both the BSW and the CIAA, which reports were prepared from information supplied him by the Bureau, ONI, and G-2. Miller was said to have been very complimentary of the Bureau's work, stating that our reports from Latin America had improved considerably in quantity and quality recently.

On March 6, 1942, Robert Miller of CIAA had lunch with F. C. Holloman, then Chief of the SIS Division of the Bureau, at which time Miller was very complimentary of the Bureau's work in Latin America.

On March 17, 1942, Robert T. Miller, Director, Division of Reports, CIAA, answered a Bureau inquiry directed to Mr. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Technical coverage of Miller on August 16, 1944, revealed that he was acquainted with a Mr. Silvermaster and mentioned that individual to Jack Roth. Dear Sir:

On December 13, 1945 a technical surveillance was instituted on the residence of ABE BROTHMAN, a subject of instant case, covering the telephone listed to him at 41-08 42nd Street, Bunnyside, Queens, New York. This listing is Ironsides 6-7769 and the symbol WIT 347 has been assigned.

This informant has been able to furnish considerable information of value relating to BROTHMAN's movements and associates. For instance, on December 28, 1945 this informant reported that BROTHMAN had advised his wife he had an evening appointment in the Russian Tea Room. Appropriate investigation is presently being conducted to determine the identity of the person observed meeting him there.

On January 6, 1946 this confidential source advised that BROTHMAN was leaving New York City the following day for a week's vacation at Walkill, New York. On January 8, 1946 it was learned through this informant that BROTHMAN had arrived at Walkill and was apparently planning to stay the full week there.

In view of the type of information being furnished, it is recommended that the services of this informant be continued.

PURPOSE

To advise that George Silverman, mentioned in a telephone conversation between Frank V. Connolly and Florence Wagner nee O'Dell, an employee of the Treasury Department, is identical with Abraham George Silverman, a subject of the "Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, with aliases, et al; Espionage-R" case. This information was received from the New York Division.

BACKGROUND

Frank V. Connolly and Mrs. Florence Wagner, who sometimes uses her maiden name of O'Dell, in one of their conversations spoke critically about a George Silverman of the French Commission. They, however, described Silverman as "usable". A technical surveillance maintained on Connolly while he was staying at the Savoy Plaza in New York City reflected that he had talked with George Silverman. He described Silverman as "full of Bureaucratic ideas".

It is also of interest to note that investigation of the Nathan Gregory Silvermaster case reflects that Jerome K. Orbach, a known associate of subject Sherman, was in contact with George Silverman of the French Commission on December 2 and 3, 1945 while he, Orbach, was staying at the Hay Adams House in Washington, D. C.

Silverman is one of the main subjects in the Silvermaster's group and is under investigation as a result of disclosures made by Elisabeth Terrill Bentley, a Soviet courier. He is one of a large number of individuals with whom the Bentley woman came in contact and from whom she collected information for the Soviet espionage system. Silverman was described as a native of Poland, a graduate of Harvard University, and as formerly having been employed as a Chief Production Specialist with the United States Army Air Forces. He terminated his work with the United States Government on August 18, 1945 and since that time has been employed by the French Government. His place of employment is the French Supply Council, 1800 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Washington, D. C.

The New York Division advises that the George Silverman whose name was mentioned in technical logs in this case is identical with Abraham George Silverman, a subject in the Nathan Gregory Silvermaster case. New York further advises that it is conducting no further investigation of George Silverman in connection with the instant case, Irving Frank Sherman, with aliases.

Reference is made to the New York teletype of January 15, 1946, which stated that Cedric Beltrage and a Mr. Feltel (phonetic) would meet in New York that night. (u)

At 11:30 AM, January 17, 1946, the New York Office telephonically advised that Beltrage went to Tony's Restaurant in New York City on the night of the 15th and met with a man who has now been identified as Berthold Viertel.

The Bureau files reflect that Berthold Viertel is a German refugee who spent the years during the war in Hollywood, California, where he was associated with such outstanding figures in the German Communist parallel of the Comintern Apparatus as Berthold Brecht and Heinrich Mann.

The New York Office has a pending Internal Security - R investigation in progress on Viertel.

ACTION:

New York advised that they were submitting a teletype summary regarding Beltrage's contact with Viertel.

RE: ALICE HISS

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
EXCEPT WHERE SHOWN
OTHERWISE

You will recall that Elizabeth Terrill Bentley recently made information available concerning certain Soviet agents from whom she had collected information and delivered to her supervisors in the Soviet espionage system in the capacity of a courier. One of the main Soviet agents identified by her, while in conversation, stated that an individual named Hiss in the U.S. State Department had been operating a parallel for the Soviet espionage system of his own, and that certain individuals from whom he had previously collected information now reported to Hiss.

Bentley kept "Jack" advised of conversations of this nature and when she mentioned Hiss, he asked her who Hiss was. Later when she had further identified Hiss, she mentioned his name to "Jack" again, when the latter stated that he had in the meanwhile learned the full identity of Hiss. "Jack" it will be recalled has not been positively identified. However, his superior "Al" has been identified as Anatole Borisovich Gromov, formerly first secretary of the Soviet Embassy, Washington, D. C., who in early December, 1945, returned to the Soviet Union.

Through inquiries it was determined that the individual referred to by Bentley was in fact Hiss, born November 11, 1904 at Baltimore, Maryland. He received his A.B. degree from John Hopkins University and his LL.B. degree from Harvard University with honors. He has held various positions in the U.S. Government since May, 1933, and was Secretary General to the United Nations Conference on International Organization held in San Francisco, California, in 1945. He is still affiliated in an official capacity with the United Nations Organization.

Looking back over his past activities, he has been associated in various capacities with several organizations allegedly described as Communist front groups. From a confidential source of known reliability on Communist affairs, Hiss has been described as a member of the underground organization of the Communist Party. There is sufficient information available to indicate that Hiss from the political standpoint leans far to the left and would be a logical person to be engaged in Soviet espionage from within the U.S. Government. He departed on December 11, 1945 from New York City aboard the SS Queen Mary enroute to London, England, to attend a conference of the United Nations Organization.
